15 participant reflections

Vaishnavi Singh

This session helped me become more strategic. In future I will apply it in any situation and avoid impulsive decisions.

Suggestion: Encourage quieter students more; I spoke when invited and felt my idea was appreciated.

Nutan Mehra

Right planning, coordination with the team, problem-solving, breaking a complex task into small segments, idea-sharing and trust-building.

Suggestion: More people should participate in the activity.

Anshika Sharma

Prioritise work by urgency, need and situation. Divide tasks into smaller goals, act mindfully and do not stress over things outside your control.

Vaishnavi Srivastava

To achieve the ultimate goal, set smaller goals; each smaller goal also brings learning.

Pranjali Gill

A very interesting and fun session that helped me introspect and enhance my soft skills.

Purna Thapa

Break a complex problem into objectives to make it easier to solve; understand feelings under pressure; plan before dealing with a problem.

Ranveer Singh

Breaking a complex problem into shorter problems; teamwork, communication and trust with the team.

Kanwar Adviti Singh Rathor

A fun, interactive session that taught planning, strategising, teamwork and communication.

Suggestion: Make it a regular activity for students.

Pranjali Karki

Communicate well with the team; understand why communication is important; gain practical knowledge.

Suggestion: Increase the time for the sessions.

Riya Rawat

Working in a team and listening to others' opinions. Life is uncertain; be solution-oriented rather than fixating on a problem.

Palwinder Kaur

Calmness, clarity, planning and thinking out of the box.

Chris R. Dennis

A fun experience that taught me how to plan, divide tasks and focus on what is most important at this point in life.

Abhijeet Jy

Break our problem into smaller objectives.

Piyush Singh

Complex problems need a stepwise approach. Prior planning ensures clarity.

Mohit Kumar

Solve complex problems step by step; work with a team to build trust and improve leadership and communication skills.
